

fabulous figs at Willabrand Figs historic Adelaide Hills Glen Ewin property
Sunday March 25 at 11.00 am

A property tour of Willabrand Figs and the historic Glen Ewin farm, a complete explanation of varieties and their culinary uses by owner Willa Wauchope and a cooking class and informal Italian style luncheon cooked by Ann Oliver.

Hosted by owners Willa and Mary Wauchope and the Adelaide Independent Weekly's food writer Ann Oliver this unique day is bound to be both fun and educational. Three of the dishes listed on the menu will be demonstrated in a cooking class and Willa will specifically talk about the different species, their specific uses and methods of storage and preservation. The class will culminate in an informal Italian style luncheon with a menu based around old favourites and new fig dishes. All have been carefully paired with Adelaide Hills Bird in Hand Wines, Nepenthe Wines, Paracombe Wines and two classically matched Italian wines. During the day, everyone will be taken in small groups to tour the property and see the varieties first hand. Even, eat a fig straight from the tree!

Please CLICK HERE to get full information

The first of four cooking classes in conjunction with some of the state's finest producers and venues

Sponsored by

The Independent Weekly

Bird In Hand Wines
Nepenthe Wines
Paracombe Wines